

“Gap between Rich and Poor in the process of Modernization and its Solutions”
Webinar
Call for Paper

Modernization is a profound evolution. Facts show that a country moving towards modernization will experience unprecedented changes in economic, political, cultural and social fields, etc. At present, the ever-increasing gap between rich and poor in many countries in the world is closely related to modernization. In this process, how to alleviate poverty, to eradicate poverty and to achieve the United Nations 2030 Sustainable Development Goals is not only a common issue urgently required to be addressed by human society, but also a problem for governments in various countries. In order to contribute wisdom in this regard, and to share the latest research results of domestic and foreign scholars, Shanghai Administration Institute (SAI) is scheduled to hold a webinar on “Gap between Rich and Poor in the process of Modernization and its Solutions” on September 16th, 2022. We warmly welcome theoretical experts and practical workers in relevant fields to submit papers and participate in the webinar.
